

Ruben Vastenavondt is the brains behind Mock Tales. After almost 15 years in the hospitality industry, he was determined to do something about the dearth of tasty alternatives to alcoholic drinks. He set to work, drawing on his interest in herbs, spices and fruits. His 'mocktail' experiments met with the approval of his friends and Mock Tales was born! Different combinations of ingredients give each mocktail its own unique taste. And each has its own story to tell. Hence the name Mock Tales.
